

McNary Strategy Makes GOP Seem More Liberal to Old People than Dem.

WASHINGTON — Chalk up another score for Senate Republican Floor Leader Charles McNary.

He was behind the House Republican's move to liberalize the old-age pension feature of the Social Security bill.

The House minority party had held several caucuses in an effort to agree regarding the bill, but had got nowhere.

Some of the leaders privately consulted McNary, who advised them to call the Democratic bill too parsimonious and demand that its $15 a month provision be boosted to $25.

McNary pointed out that such a stand would kill two birds with one stone:

First, Republicans would put the Administration in the position of being niggardly in its treatment of the indigent aged.

Second, Republican members opposed to the Townsend plan but from districts where pressure for it is strong, could record themselves as being for an old-age pension program more generous than the Administration's.

According to his friends, he became an adept at bowing from the waist, clicking his heels, and implanting on the lady's glove a large smack.

New Basis

From the earliest days of the NRA one of its major problems has been effective enforcement of code provisions.

General Hugh Johnson and the board that succeeded him struggled ceaselessly and futilely with this task.

Now, however, NRA chairman Donald Richberg, and Administrative Officer W. Averell Harriman have come forward with a solution.

It is simple. They will abandon government enforcement efforts.

This new policy was revealed in an official press release announcing changes in the administration of the lumber code. Under the heading, "A basis for meeting the difficulties which have recently arisen in the administration of the code," the following order was proclaimed: That compulsory enforcement of the code will not be undertaken during continuance of conditions making it ineffectual.

In other words as far as this code is concerned the NRA washes its hands of trying to enforce its provisions.

Fortunate Failure

Asked for biographical material for the Congressional Directory, Congressmen have little hesitation in listing their accomplishments, but they seldom mention their failures.

Jack Nichols, Democrat rookie from Eufaula, Okla., is an exception. Under his name in the Directory one reads, "Reported for duty at the First Officers Training Camp, Little Rock, May 11, 1917, but failed of commission."

There is a story back of that failure. When Nichols' term in camp was about over and he could almost feel the lieutenant's bars on his shoulders, he got into an altercation with a young "shavetail."

The language Jack used in that encounter caused him to be hailed before the company captain.

Undaunted, Jack again expressed

JAILS FILLED AS VIOLATORS FACE COURTS

Leistville Man Sent to Workhouse for Attack on Officer Green

MANY GO TO JAIL

Two Drunken Drivers
Given $100, Costs

Charges of many natures, resulting in commitments to the workhouse and jails and a number of fines were on record in courts of Mayor W. B. Cady and Squire H. O. Evland today as a result of the busiest week-end police have had for many months.

Crimes ranged from attacks on officers to driving while intoxicated, and plain drunkenness.

Charles Hutchinson, 28, of Leistville, was committed to the workhouse at Cincinnati when he appeared before Mayor Cady for jumping on the back of Officer George Green when the policeman attempted to arrest Hutchinson's brother, Howard, 21, at a W. Main-st. beer parlor Saturday evening.

The older Hutchinson was fined $100 and costs of $43.45. His brother was fined $10 and costs of $11.10 for intoxication.

Halted by Shasteen

When Charles Hutchinson leaped on Green's back Officer Alva Shasteen came to the aid of his fellow-officer and gave the assailant a "cleaning" in quick fashion.

Philip Cox, 361 Walnut-st., was fined $100 and costs and his driving rights were suspended for six months by Squire Evland when he appeared for driving while intoxicated. His automobile struck that of C. H. Garrison, 817 E. 5th-ave., Columbus, and another machine the owner of which is unknown. Cox was arrested by Deputy Bob Armstrong. He is in jail unable to pay the fine.

Harry Cramer, of Columbus but formerly of this city, was in the county jail for failing to pay $100 and costs for driving while intoxicated. He had arranged to pay a fine but had failed to do so. Chief William McCready apprehended him in Columbus.

W. F. Van Gundy, Harrison-twp., was fined $5 and costs by Evland for intoxication after he nearly drove his car into Little Walnut Creek Monday morning. Van Gundy's car was hanging on the edge of the abutment when Sheriff Radcliff went to his rescue. He gave bond for payment of the fine.

Jailed for Fraud

Henry Cooper, 343 Elm-st., Fostoria, was in jail under $1,000 bond after being bound over to the grand jury by Squire Evland on two charges. He was returned here by Sheriff Radcliff and Loring Evans for defrauding Mrs. Carrie Patton of a room bill and for failing to give a bill of sale to the Reliable Motors Co. in an automobile trade. He was bound over on each charge bond being $500 in each case.

Joseph Moore and Allen "Dug" Fowler, this city, were each committed to the county jail by Mayor Cady for failing to pay fines of $5 and costs for intoxication. Harold Wooten, of Williamsport, put up $5 as an appearance bond on an intoxication charge; Mrs. Everett Tatum, Laureville, was released after her arrest for shoplifting when she settled a bill of $2.92 at the J. C. Penny store; Robert Dun an, Columbus, arrested for being intoxicated on rubbing alcohol, was ordered out of town, and Marshall Shisler Crabbe was released after his arrest for intoxication.

11 FACE TRIAL IN BREMER ABDUCTION

ST. PAUL, April 15—Arthur "Doc" Barker and eleven co-defendants, on a charge of going on trial in federal court here today in connection with the $200,000 ransom kidnapping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, Jan. 17, 1934.

Bremer was released 23 days later, after payment of the huge ransom.

Barker and his pal Alvin Karpis, are charged with the actual engineering of the abduction. Karpis is at large, having shot his way out of a police trap at Atlantic City several months ago.

Barker's mother, "Ma" Barker, and another son, Fred, also indicted in connection with the kidnapping, chose to "shoot it out" with federal officers in Florida, and were shot to death.

DAVEY'S PLEA FOR MONEY ANSWERED

Governor Seeking to Raise $16,000 By Contributions; Milling Company Head to Assist

COLUMBUS, April 15 — Loyal Davey supporters dipped into the petty cash today to help buy the governor stamps and rugs for his executive offices.

First public response to Davey's plea for contributions to raise $16,000 for rugs, stamps and other office supplies, refused by the state senate, brought approximately $8,000 today, in gifts from a penny to $3.

Accept Grain, Too

Hanley today announced he would accept contributions of wheat, corn and oats from farmers and convert them into cash for the governor's "emergency fund."

"I will do all I can to help the governor in his fight with the politicians," Hanley declared. "I am going to accept contributions from a dime on up and turn them over, together with the names of donors, to Gov. Davey."

The governor was pleased with the early response to his plea today, Packard said.

"It is an indication that the people are aroused over the refusal of the senate to grant him the money needed to run his office. The governor made his plea only Saturday and there scarcely has been time for any response, but this morning's mail brought pennies, dimes and larger sums from points scattered over the state," he declared.

The sum total of Davey's "office fund" today was $138. Funds pledged by Senators W. J. Zeul (D), Cleveland and some of his Cuyahoga county colleagues in the legislature, who started the movement to raise the money requested by the governor, amounted to $130.

Anticipating rejection of the moratorium, Chairman P. E. Ward, of the House taxation committee, called a meeting of his group for tomorrow night to consider the Lawrence bill which is understood to have the approval of bond experts.

While the governor proposed permits political subdivisions to postpone for two years payment of maturing bond principal, the Lawrence measure provides for the issuance of refunding bonds to units whose fixed charges and current expenses will exceed revenue from taxes and other sources for the ensuing fiscal year.

Three patients were discharged from Berger hospital over the week-end. Mrs. Clarence Helvering, E. Main-st., who underwent a major operation, was taken to her home, Sunday; Mrs. Harold Bums, R. F. D. 2, was taken to her home Monday. She recently underwent a major operation. Mrs. Tom Drum and daughter, S. Court-st., were taken Saturday to the home of Mrs. John Drum, W. Mound-st.

It is reported that the condition of Mrs. Alice Riegel, of Kingston, who underwent a major operation in Grant hospital, Saturday, is serious. No visitors are permitted in her room.

Mrs. Thomas R. Burke, Rose Terrace, was to be brought home from Grant hospital Monday afternoon. She underwent an operation last week.

PRIZES OFFERED IN EASTER EGG HUNT

Details were being worked out today for an "egg hunt", sponsored by The Herald and co-operating merchants with $10 in prize money to be at stake. The hunt, according to present plans, will take place Thursday and Friday. The prize winners will be announced in Saturday's Herald.

The $10 will be divided $3 for first prize, $2 for second and five of $1 each. The earlier the answer reaches the newspaper office the better chance the contestant will have to win a prize as the first correct or nearest correct answer received will be given first money.

It is planned to place colored eggs in display windows of the various participating stores. A contestant must take a copy of The Herald on Wednesday, count the number of eggs in the store window of the co-operating merchant and write that number in a blank space which will be available in his ad. After windows of all participating merchants have been visited the marked newspaper should be rushed to The Herald office with the contestant's name and address plainly written thereon.

All eggs placed in the various windows will be in plain view. There are no strings attached.

Further details on the egg hunt will be published in The Herald in later issues.

TEMPERATURE FALLING FAST AS GALE HITS

Mercury Drops Seven Degrees from 7 a. m. to
1:30 p. m. Monday

COLDER ON TUESDAY

Western States Continue
to Suffer from Dust

Spring was driven away from Circleville and central Ohio today by a gale and near-freezing temperatures.

"Much colder" weather was predicted by government forecasters for late today and Tuesday. After Tuesday, however, temperatures will rise and become more suitable for the Easter season, it was estimated.

The temperature was falling fast this afternoon. Dr. H. R. Clarke, government weather man reported. The lowest the mercury fell during the night was 44 degrees but at 1:30 p. m. it was seven degrees below that mark. Sunday's high was 66.

A strong wind and snow accompanied the temperature drop.

CLEVELAND, April 15.—A snow-laden, 48-mile-an-hour gale swept across Lake Erie from the north today, driving three large freighters to shelter in Cleveland harbor and forcing all smaller craft to remain in port.

The sudden storm churned up huge waves on the lake, and brought northern Ohio flurries of snow fall and freezing temperatures.

Only one boat the D. & C. steamer Western States, bound 131 passengers was able to make headway against the storm, while several large freighters put back (Continued on Page Two)

RADICALS QUELLED AT MICHIGAN U.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 15.—Student radicals who have kept things in a turmoil for months at the University of Michigan today pondered the ultimatum of President Alexander G. Ruthven—an ultimatum which amounted to an order to "calm down or get out."

Stirred by statewide criticism of the doings of the parlor pinks and campus communists, Dr. Ruthven declared that radical teachings and activities will no longer be tolerated.

"The work of the university has been interfered with by the pervasive activities of a few professional agitators," his statement said. "Students who are known to have interfered with the proper conduct of university affairs, and with the work of their fellows, are being investigated and necessary action will be taken promptly."

CHAPLIN'S SONS FIGHT OVER GIRL

HOLLYWOOD, April 15.—Another of Hollywood's famous flistic encounters and been recorded today, this time between two juvenile brothers.

The latest fuss was participated in by the sons of Charles Chaplin, film comedian, Sydney Earl, 5, and Charles Jr., 9.

The little rags started inside a movie theater when the two brothers argued who should take the sister of one of their school chums home.

During the melee caused by flying fists, the girl disappeared and as a result of the battle, which was finally ended by a chaperon, one of the comedian's sons suffered a "slap" and the other a lacerated lip.

MRS HINTON DIES

Mrs. Winnie Ann Hinton, 75, wife of Ed Hinton, died Sunday at 6 a. m. at her home in Lover's lane. Complications caused death.

"COUNTY FATHERS" WANT DOG POUND

Location Is Big Question; Willing to Accept Suggestions, they say

No one can say the county commissioners aren't willing to try to right a condition that has been a sore spot for quite a while. In session Monday they announced they were willing to establish a suitable dog pound anytime—but the big question is where will it be located.

Ralph May and C. Edward Wright expressed their desire to get a pound established as soon as possible and they will act at once if someone can provide a satisfactory location. "No one wants the pound on their property," Mr. May said.

Commissioner Burr H. Rader says he is interested in getting the dogs off the streets, and that's all.

So if anyone has a site to suggest, the commissioners are willing to finance construction of a pound.

PRIZES OFFERED IN EASTER EGG HUNT

Details were being worked out today for an "egg hunt", sponsored by The Herald and co-operating merchants with $10 in prize money to be at stake. The hunt, according to present plans, will take place Thursday and Friday. The prize winners will be announced in Saturday's Herald.

The $10 will be divided $3 for first prize, $2 for second and five of $1 each. The earlier the answer reaches the newspaper office the better chance the contestant will have to win a prize as the first correct or nearest correct answer received will be given first money.

It is planned to place colored eggs in display windows of the various participating stores. A contestant must take a copy of The Herald on Wednesday, count the number of eggs in the store window of the co-operating merchant and write that number in a blank space which will be available in his ad. After windows of all participating merchants have been visited the marked newspaper should be rushed to The Herald office with the contestant's name and address plainly written thereon.

All eggs placed in the various windows will be in plain view. There are no strings attached.

Further details on the egg hunt will be published in The Herald in later issues.

DAVID SIX, 75, TAKEN SUNDAY RUBBER STRIKE FEAR IS ENDED

Resident of Walnut-twp Since
1901 Succumbs After Two Years' Illness

David Six, 75, widely known Walnut-twp farmer, died of complications Sunday at 1:10 p. m. at his home after an illness of two years.

Mr. Six had been a resident of Pickaway-co since October, 1901. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Flora Six, whom he married in Athens Jan. 26, 1888, a son, Virgil F., and a daughter, Sylvia M., at home.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the home with Rev. C. W. Hoffman of the Ashville Methodist Episcopal church officiating. Additional services will be conducted at the grave in West Union cemetery at Athens with members of the Knights of Pythias lodge of Nelsonville having charge.

Funeral bearers will be Ludwig Osterle, George Grove, Solomon C. Allison, Homer G. Bausum, Frank Conrad and William Crumley.

Mr. Six was a member of the Ashville M. E. church and of the Nelsonville Knights of Pythias lodge.

He was born Sept. 2, 1859 in Nelsonville a son of William and Cassie Wells Six.

The W. H. Albaugh Co. is in charge of arrangements.

Authorities Asked to Hunt Two Rings

Local authorities have been asked by Wayne Hoover, Jackson-twp. to watch for two rings, one a class ring and the other a diamond, which his daughter Mary lost at the Jackson-twp school last week.

She removed them from her fingers when she went to the washroom and upon leaving forgot them. When she returned 20 minutes later both rings were gone.

School authorities are also trying to find the rings.

Expelled as "Radical"

June Wills

For alleged activities in the National Students' league, Miss June Wills, above, sophomore at San Jose State college, San Jose, Cal., was expelled by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president of the college. Miss Wills, whose home is at Sacramento, was studying to become a public school teacher.

Federation of Labor Approves Four - Point Agreement Ending Akron Fear

AKRON, April 15 — Akron returned to normalcy today with the banishment of strike threat clouds which had hung over the rubber tire industry here for 21 months.

The American Federation of labor-affiliated United Rubber workers union employees at the three major rubber tire companies in Akron—the Firestone Tire & Rubber co.—The B. F. Goodrich Co. and the Goodyear Tire and Rubber co.—yesterday approved the four-point agreement reached at Washington late Saturday night.

Today the struggle for recognition of the union shifted to Cincinnati where the Goodrich and Firestone appeals from the order of the national labor relations board for collective bargaining elections were to come up in the United States circuit court of appeals.

The U. R. W. union agreed in the peace pact to postpone the elections until the courts decide the issue and not to call "a strike or lockout." The companies agreed "not to discriminate."

The votes on the agreement were taken behind closed doors yesterday, but the three local presidents announced the union members had accepted the agreement "almost unanimously."

YOUTHS KILLED IN PLAY-HOUSE CAVE

SIOUX CITY, Ia., April 15—Their secret sanctuary converted into a death trap, Ruddy Cross, 12 and Warren Carlson, 11, were found dead today under a mass of dirt.

Discovery of the bodies ended 36 hours of anxious search, handicapped because the boys had faithfully kept their secret of the cave which served as a headquarters for their play.

Their constant companion, a small dog, found patiently awaiting his masters' return near the cavern, finally made the discovery possible.

Police Captain Carl Wood and Patrolman Walter Wright dug the bodies from their living grave while the terrified parents stood by.

CHAPLIN'S SONS

FIGHT OVER GIRL

HOLLYWOOD, April 15 — Another of Hollywood's famous fight encounters had been recorded today—this time between two juvenile brothers.

The latest fuss was participated in by the sons of Charles Chaplin, film comedian, Sydney Earl, 8, and Charles, Jr., 9.

The battle royal started inside a movie theatre when the two brothers argued who should take the sister of one of their school chums home.

During the melee caused by flying fists, the girl disappeared and as a result of the battle, which was finally halted by a chapman, one of the comedian's sons suffered a "shiner," and the other a lacerated lip.

MRS HINTON DIES

Mrs. Winnie Ann Hinton, 75, wife of Eli Hinton, died Sunday at 6 a. m. at her home in Lover's lane. Complications caused death.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. at the home of a stepson, Pearl Hinton, Walnut-st., with Rev. O. L. Ferguson officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Carmel cemetery near Chillicothe by H. E. Defenbaugh and son.

TEMPERATURE FALLING FAST AS GALE HITS

Mercury Drops Seven Degrees from 7 a. m. to
1:30 p. m. Monday

COLDER ON TUESDAY

Western States Continue
to Suffer from Dust

Spring was driven away from Circleville and central Ohio today by a gale and near-freezing temperatures.

"Much colder" weather was predicted by government forecasters for late today and Tuesday. After Tuesday, however, temperatures will rise and become more suitable for the Easter season, it was estimated.

The temperature was falling fast this afternoon. Dr. H. R. Clarke, government weather man, reported. The lowest the mercury fell during the night was 44 degrees but at 1:30 p. m. it was seven degrees below that mark. Sunday's high was 66.

A strong wind and snow accompanied the temperature drop.

CLEVELAND, April 15—A snow-laden, 48-mile-an-hour gale swept across Lake Erie from the north today, driving three large freighters to shelter in Cleveland harbor and forcing all smaller craft to remain in port.

The sudden storm churned up huge waves on the lake, and brought northern Ohio flurries of snow fall and freezing temperatures.

131 Arrived Safely

Only one boat, the D. & C. steamer Western States, bearing 131 passengers was able to make headway against the storm, while several large freighters put back.

RADICALS QUELLED AT MICHIGAN U.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 15—Student radicals who have kept things in a turmoil for months at the University of Michigan today pondered the ultimatum of President Alexander G. Ruthven—an ultimatum which amounted to an order to "calm down or get out."

Stirred by statewide criticism of the doings of the parlor pinks and campus communists, Dr. Ruthven declared that radical teachings and activities will no longer be tolerated.

"The work of the university has been interfered with by the pervasive activities of a few professional agitators," his statement said. "Students who are known to have interfered with the proper conduct of university affairs, and with the work of their fellows, are being investigated and necessary action will be taken promptly."

HOOVER VISITOR AT PUBLISHER'S HOME

COLUMBUS, April 15—Former President Herbert Hoover was quoted here today as being "tired of living a 'goldfish life'."

Accordingly his visit here during the week-end, was not disclosed by his host, Harry P. Wolfe, prominent publisher, until Hoover had left the city. Hoover had expressed a desire to avoid publicity.

Robert Wolfe, son of the publisher, declared that the visit was a personal one and that politics only in a general way were discussed.

Hand Bruised in Wringer

Miss Wilmine Haecker, E. High-st., suffered a bruised right hand, Monday morning, when she caught her hand in an electric wringer at her home. Miss Haecker is an employee of Mader's Gift Shop, E. Main-st.

Wittich Moves Store

Fred Wittich has moved his candy store, home of Wittich's fine candies, several doors west of his former location in E. Main-st into a newly-finished room.

New Arrivals

SCHULTZ GOES ON TRIAL FOR CHEATING U. S.

To Deny Income Tax Frauds; Claim His Net Income Was $481,837 In Two Years

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 15 — Charged with defrauding the government out of $92,103 in income taxes and aiding his lieutenants to do the same thing to the extent of $109,969 more, Arthur Fliegenheim, alias "Dutch Schultz", appeared for trial today.

A cordon of 12 special deputy marshals was thrown around the small courtroom of the federal building where the Bronx gangster will be tried before Judge Bryant.

Facing possible imprisonment of 42 years and fines of $110,000, Schultz declared he is innocent and insisted he will not plead guilty to any of the 11 counts of the indictment against him. A delay of one week will be sought to better prepare his case, according to J. Richard Davis, defense counsel.

The government's charges would indicate Schultz fared well in the beer business from 1929 to 1931. His own income—net income—was $481,937 in those three years, officials say.

A long parade of witnesses, including officials and clerks of Bronx, N. Y., banks and Albert D. Osborn, white-haired handwriting ace who recently helped pin the Lindbergh murder on Bruno Richard Hauptmann, is scheduled to sustain the government's contentions about Schultz's wealth. Before the trial is over they expect to have him knee deep in his own bank accounts, listed in various ways.

30,000 VETS TO GATHER AT FAIR

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 15 — An army of 30,000 war veterans will be mustered during the California Pacific international exposition May 29 to Nov. 11 at historic Balboa park here.

Ten thousand members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will attend the convention the day after it opens, while 20,000 members of the American Legion will convene Armistice Day.

The V. F. W. will sponsor a marathon race of 26 miles from Agua Caliente, Mex., to the exposition grounds here.

Another signal event of the exposition will be the gathering of 35,000 Roman Catholics, representing various societies of the Catholic church at a pontifical high mass June 2.

Travel westward to the Exposition will be the heaviest in six years, railroad passenger traffic managers forecast. A new weekly deluxe train will be added by one road to handle the greatly increased travel to southern California, a $370,000 diesel unit, will haul this train of 12 cars at 100 miles an hour.

The freighter Marita, which left Cleveland for Monroe, Mich., loaded with steel, was damaged by the shifting of the heavy beams in its cargo. It turned back to port here to await subsiding of the storm.

KANSAS CITY, Kas., April 15 — The weather man could promise but little relief as the drought area continued to suffer from the furies of dust storms today.

The government forecast predicted showers from western Nebraska, but no succor from the dust plague was promised for other stricken plains areas.

A 40-mile wind drifted dust like snow in western Kansas yesterday, the gritty fog extending as far west as Denver and east to the Mississippi.

Nebraska, Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Missouri and Iowa were visited by the dust fog, but sections of western Kansas were literally inundated.

8,271 men and women visited the Chesterfield factories during the past year...

LIGGETT AND MYERS TOBACCO COMPANY

A man who visited a Chesterfield factory recently, said: "Now that I have seen Chesterfields made, I understand better than ever why people say Chesterfields are milder and have a better taste."

If you too could visit our factories you could see the clean, airy surroundings; the employees in their spotless uniforms, and the modern cigarette making machinery.

You could notice how carefully each Chesterfield cigarette is inspected and see also how Chesterfields are practically untouched by human hands.

Whenever you happen to be in Richmond, Va., Durham, N. C., or San Francisco, California, we invite you to stop at the Liggett & Myers plants and see how Chesterfields are made.

Questions and Answers

Can you give me any tips on how to keep eggs from going to pieces as they poach?

Before dropping the egg into the boiling water stir the water rapidly to make a deep trough in it. Drop the egg into this trough as the water whirls and the egg white will coagulate in a smooth coating around the yolk instead of sloughing off into the water. A teaspoon of vinegar added to the 2 cups of water helps to coagulate smoothly the egg white without adding any taste to the egg. Keep the temperature below the boiling point so that the vigorous agitation will not shred the egg white.

How should salmon steaks be cooked?

Salmon steaks or fillets are good when pan fried, broiled or baked. Many persons prefer the oily salmon flesh baked because of the richness of its flavor. However, broiling is always an excellent method of preparing fish steaks.

What kind of pastry should be used for patty shells?

The most successful patty shells are made with plain or rich pastry. French puff paste may be used for light, flaky shells, but is more difficult to make.

What is demi-tasse? I've been told it is a beverage, but how is it made?

Demi-tasse is a French description of after dinner coffee. The coffee is served black, in tiny "demi" cups, properly following a very formal dinner.

Do you have a recipe for scalloped spinach?

Scalloped spinach is a good serving when you desire a hot vegetable dish. Make a white sauce of 4 Tbsp. shortening, 4 Tbsp. flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper, and 1 1/2 cups milk. Put a layer of bread crumbs in the bottom of a greased baking dish, then a layer of chopped cooked spinach and chopped hard cooked eggs. Pour some white sauce over this and continue putting in layers until the dish is filled. Use 1 1/2 cups of cooked spinach and 3 hard cooked eggs with 1 1/2 cups of soft bread crumbs. Spread a layer of crumbs on the top and dot with small bits of butter. Bake in a hot oven, 375 degrees, for 25 minutes.

Rhubarb Pie

When rhubarb season heralds spring, rhubarb pies become the family's favorite pastry.

1 1/2 c. rhubarb
2 c. sugar
1 egg
2 Tbsp. flour

Skin and cut stalks of rhubarb in half-inch pieces before measuring. Mix sugar, flour, and egg; add to rhubarb and bake between crusts. To reduce the acidity of the rhubarb, seal in hot water before using. Less sugar is required if the acidity is reduced. Bake the pie at 425 degrees.

GARDEN GOSSIP
by PETER HENDERSON

Planting

CONSIDER your garden as an outdoor living-room. We do not advocate building a high wall around it, but a line of hedge in two or three places will give the separate unit impression and add much to its individuality.

THE SOIL is ready to work if it will crumble when squeezed in the hand. Much harm is done by working the soil which is wet and, the hand is the best test we know.

THE MOISTURE that is in the ground is sufficient for most seeds. Too much moisture may rot the seeds and cause the seedlings to damp off after germination. Damping off is a fungus disease that flourishes when the soil is too wet.

A POOR JOB in the preparation of the soil starts your garden off on the wrong foot. A little extra time spent in doing a thorough job saves a great deal later on.

THERE ARE several reasons for the failure of indoor seedlings grown indoors. Lack of sunlight is one. Too much or too little water and sudden changes in temperature are among other reasons.

THE TIME to transplant seedlings is when they have made their first pair of true leaves. The first leaves are the pair of seed leaves which are entirely different from the true leaf.

EACH YEAR sees many new and improved varieties of flowers and vegetables. America now leads the world in the production of new plants through the work of its many hybridists.

ADD a new shrub or two every year. A few perennials each season will eventually make a sizeable assortment at little annual expense.

AN ATTRACTIVE well-planted garden will add from ten to thirty per cent to the selling price of a house. A single tree will often make a difference of several hundreds of dollars.

JOIN your local garden club. People who have an interest in the same things are always pleasant company.

Why sleep on a mattress? Comfort. For the same reason use Chewrite Cushion Adhesive on the lower plate.

A GREAT, LOUD VOICE

THERE is perhaps a deeper significance to the repeal by congress of the pink-ship requirement in the income tax laws than an immediate and direct benefit of its enactment from the statute books. Actually, it signifies that we still live a land of representative government where the voice of the people, when really audible, penetrates even the thick-er- walls on capitol hill.

For it was not in response to public demand that congress originally incorporated the publicity provisions in the federal income tax law. Few people in the country knew of the requirements for bits of pink paper that caused indignant citizens to see red. Once attention was directed to the slips, protest began and constantly increased in volume. It was an exhibition of common sense. The country could see no reason to justify this invasion of personal privacy. On the other hand, the evils were apparent. The result was that congress heard the people speaking with no uncertain sound.

The majority in both houses of congress yielded with good grace. Probably many members were glad to do their part in rectifying what they had come to regard as a great mistake. There was an overwhelming vote for repeal in the house, and a vote of 53 to 16 in the senate.

Congress has done at least one good day's work, even if it was only the undoing of a bad day's work in a previous session.

DUST PNEUMONIA

DUSTSTORMS in the West are bringing more than discomfort and financial losses to settlers in the affected areas. There is death in the clouds which carry immeasurable amounts of soil across hundreds of miles of prairie and farm land. Much livestock has died in the stifling duststorms. And a new and dangerous disease, called dust pneumonia, has taken toll of men and women and is keeping doctors and hospitals busy throughout the stricken sections.

Pneumonia is fundamentally an inflammation of the lungs, which may have several causes and a variety of serious consequences. The finely powdered dust, light enough to be carried halfway across the country, but sharp as sand, seems to attack the sensitive tissues of the lungs and tear them apart, after which there follow infection and stagnation, which may end in death.

It is a tragic and terrifying tale which comes from the wind-blown West. The air which is the breath of life has been poisoned for man and beast. In far-distant cities the sky has been discolored by the dust of Oklahoma and Kansas and Colorado, a strange sight for Eastern eyes. But where the duststorms are sweeping over the farm lands men are fighting for their living and their lives.

PATERNALISM IN BLOOM

IN ITS solicitude for the welfare of the Dionne quintuplets the Ontario government follows up establishment of a guardianship over them with extension of some of the assumed benefits to the dissatisfied parents. It will enlarge, modernize and it necessary, reconstruct the Dionne home; clothe and feed the entire family; put the father on an allowance for incidentals; educate the five older children, and improve the roads leading to the special quarters of the babies. In short, it will take entire charge of the affairs of the whole household.

The parents are reported to be unappeased. A paternal government cannot suppress natural instincts.

Hercules lies the great trouble with paternalism. It ignores human nature. People are born with a desire to fend for themselves. For the good of society certain restrictions on their actions are necessary; a man can do as he pleases only so long as he does not interfere with the rights of others. In the case of the Dionnes no inroads on public rights are contemplated by the parents; they wish only to be allowed to live their own lives in their own way, and not to be deprived of their natural privileges by reason of the rare performance of the stark.

GYPSY GIRL

FOR A LONG time Consuelo sat and thought. It was not until after the music of the music had died that she left the dressing room and went down the hall, anklets tinkling, silk skirt swishing. She paused before Lillie's room. Then she opened the door and walked in.

Louise looked up. She smiled condescendingly.

"Oh hello there, gypsy. I see Doug told you what I said. Now I'm perfectly willing to be friends with you and all that, but you've got to—"

She stopped. The gypsy was staring at her so peculiarly. "I want to tell you I'm sorry for what I said that day. You see I didn't have an idea you could speak English. Again she stopped. "There isn't any reason for us not being friends, is there?" She cleared her throat. "Oh, come now, you must be mad at me for talking to Douglas. We're old friends." She lighted a cigarette. "Have one?"

Consuelo did not speak.

"Oh, don't you smoke?" Louise sat down at the dressing table.

"Clara, pour a couple of drinks for the two of us, and meet me. She took off the headress that was part of her costume. "Douglas was telling me so many nice things about you—"

"I heard Renaldo say you were getting along swell with your routine, but then Renaldo is such a liar, you never can believe him. Say, any time you get stuck on a step I'll show you how to do it." No answer. "Sit down, will you, you make me nervous standing there like a—"

She didn't finish the sentence. "Clara, hurry up with that drink. You'll have one, won't you?"

"No, I don't drink with people I don't like!"

Louise started as if she had been slapped.

"Listen here, you gypsy, you're no reason to say that to me. I'm being darned nice to you. If you don't offer that a star as big as me offers to make friends with just a specialty dancer, you realize that, don't you?"

"No."

Louise stared open-mouthed at the gypsy.

"Then what the devil do you want in my dressing room?"

"I came to tell your fortune."

"You're crazy! I don't want my fortune told. I've offered you my friendship and if you don't want it get out of here and do it darn quick, or I'll call the stage hands and have you put out."

"No, you won't. Listen, white woman, I'm tired of this playing at being nice with you. I hate you. You're dancing in the place I want to dance in and there is not room for the two of us."

"Of all the crust!" Louise exploded. "Then she laughed nervously. "Don't be silly, dearie. You must think a lot of yourself to imagine you could take Lillie's place. You think that you can step in—well, if you weren't such a green newcomer you'd know you couldn't. I've got a contract with Goldberg that he can't break if he wanted to, so now what do you think you're going to do?"

"Gypsies get what they want—some way!"

"Gypsies may get what they want but they don't get what I want! Now get out of here!"

"When I am ready!"

"They stared at each other and Louise was the first to break. She turned to the mirror and pinned back her hair preparatory to taking off her makeup.

"Clara, will you open the door for this unwanted person? I'm quite tired and fatigued to endure more of this distasteful interview," she drawled in her richest manner.

Clara held the door open but the gypsy made no move to go.

"Miss Louise, don't you all think I better get Mr. Had?"

"Please! Louise thought of the laugh this would give backstage, for she said, "Oh don't bother, Clara. She can stay here all night if she wants. I've got a heavy date with my boy friend." She gestured with hands covered with cold cream.

"Better be nice to me, dearie, my boy friend is the big boy behind this show and if I say so—out you'll go, see?"

"You think so?"

"Goldberg isn't so big, you know. He's the one who put you on but my boy friend has the say so over Goldberg, and my boy friend saw to it that I got a contract that nobody in New York could break."

"These contracts, I don't know much about, but it would seem to me that the way you danced was contract enough or not enough. With my dancing I don't need a contract to make them keep me. I came in to tell your fortune, white woman, and I say to you, you'll wish your contract was a thousand times as strong before you're through!"

"You're a dirty little liar!" Then again she climbed the pedestal of Lillie and said in a voice of scorn, "You're only a vulgar, vulgar, vulgar!"

never-smiling type that has driven more people away from the church than has ever brought him in.

I was in a home to spend an evening several months ago. Along about 11 o'clock the host and hostess thought it about time we had something to eat. Instead of preparing the food and serving it in the home, the three guests were invited to share the family car on a trip to a lunch stand 10 miles away where the eats were purchased at a cost of about $2.00. Even with the ever-ready car opener, the lunch could have been served at home for much less than half that amount—and it would have been much more palatable and enjoyable. But in our mad rush we much keep up with the Joneses—or "bust" a home-string trying.

Heard & Seen

BY KAY JAY

THE TOWN DIED?

The proprietors of the Keystone hotel in Gardinia, which is a wide place in the road down in Adams-co, evidently did not enjoy a very successful business career. They pulled up stakes and left between suns, and left a sign in the hotel window which read:

"This place is dead and has been for some time. We are not staying for the funeral."

The window where the sign hung was touchingly draped with black crepe.

Of course one shouldn't pass judgment at long range, but I'll wager that the town was just about as lively as the hotel man and his wife. After all, any town is just what it's people make it—it isn't the town that dies; it's the people living in it.

HOME-MADE FUN

Members of the Trinity Lutheran Brotherhood, along with other similar organizations in the city seem to have the happy faculty of promoting social gatherings that are interesting, wholesome and thoroughly enjoyable. The entertainment feature of the gathering last Thursday night was an example, one of their number being placed on trial for the larceny of a horse. The mock legal procedure would have shattered the dignity of any court of law, but it was lots of fun for spectators and participants alike. The stern judge, the solemn jury, ferocious prosecutors and defenders, dignified court officials, nervous witnesses and the defendant himself, all contributed to the merriment.

Gatherings such as this add much to community life. It seems to me that the present generation has somehow conceived the idea that in order to have a good time it is necessary to go long distances away from home, to pay for hard-earned money for high backs, cats, questionable entertainment, to join the night life among the bright lights in places where they wouldn't care to be seen by their next door neighbor—all for a so-called thrill and as an apparent step toward modern conventions and ultra-sophistication. Many of us enjoy those things as a matter of routine habit, but I wonder sometimes if we get out money's worth.

We overlook many opportunities for home-made fun within our own little circle—fun that doesn't cost anything and in which we as individuals and as a part of community life can take part and enjoy.

One of the best comedians I ever knew was a small-town college professor a deacon in his church. He successfully resisted all efforts to induce him to capitalize on this particular talent—he was content to remain away from the bright lights and to add his mite toward making his home town a better place in which to live. He was a Christian gentleman, but not the long-faced

A SMALL SLAM CONTRACT
MOST CONTRACTS must be undertaken with expectations of finding reasonably normal distributions in critical suits. With 8 of a suit between the two hands 68 per cent of the time the two remaining cards will be divided 3-2. Even 4-1 was considered possible by the declarer, but when he found a 5-0 division the case looked bad. I wonder what percentage of readers can make 6-0 at spades, even double dummy. Of course North had to perform that feat blindly, against an opening lead of 4 of diamonds. Try it before reading how North accomplished his purpose.

Although Gary Cooper, Franchot Tone, Richard Cromwell and Sir Guy Standing, who play British officers in Paramount's "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," now at the Cliftona Theatre, represent the utmost in military grooming, it was the native officers, played by Hindus, who knocked Hollywood dead for style.

They are Sikhs, tall dandies with slim waists and beards of the utmost elegance. These beards are flowing and jet-black, parting to reveal teeth of unique whiteness. The "beaver" game has never taken hold among them, for almost all Sikhs wear whiskers.

Fighters by nature and by choice, the Sikhs are also skilled athletes and make superb cavalrymen. Almost every evening on the desert, where the picture was filmed, the Sikh officers played a "chukker" or two of polo.

AT THE GRAND

"A Night at the Ritz," starring William Gargan, Patricia Ellis and Allen Jenkins is presented Monday and Tuesday at the Grand theatre. Pat O'Brien comes Wednesday in "I Sell Anything."

AT THE CIRCLE

Quaint Plumfield School, a feature of homely rural New England in 1870, as recreated this week on the Circle theatre screen in Mascots "Little Men," screen version of the Louisa Alcott classic, had its counterpart in Hollywood during the making of this picture.

A large sign on a certain studio building, reading: "CLASSROOM & NURSERY," indicated the improvised school where Mrs. Laura Barringer, who for eleven years has taught child film stars their "reading and writing" and "rithmetic," supervised the "little men" in their three hours of study per day required by Los Angeles law.

Discussing the score of youngsters assembled for "Little Men," asserted the most imposing array of child talent ever seen in a single Hollywood studio, Mrs. Barringer declares that they are far above the average in intelligence. Dickie Moore, for instance, she terms a real thinker; as are Buster Phelps, Cora Sue Collins, and Dickie Jones. David Durand is a "bug" on history; Tommy Bupp likes spelling. Music-lovers are Tad Alexander, Jacqueline Taylor, and Richard Quine; while mathematics attracts George Ernest, Donald Buck, and Bobby Cox.

Something catalytic occurred there, because a genius appeared to be made the head of the department of physics, and the result was that in 1935 W. C. Röntgen discovered the properties of the X-ray.

The X-ray has been found useful in so many fields of diagnosis that I think, undoubtedly, it may be said to have been the greatest single discovery so far as the field of medical diagnosis is concerned.

When the first positive step was taken with it, it was then that its use would be confined entirely to diagnosis of injuries, fractures and dislocations of bones. While it has been continuously helpful in this, with the advance in technique and increase in the refinement of X-ray photography, its usefulness has broadened out so that there is hardly any part of the body to which it cannot be applied.

About ten years after its discovery, Dr. W. B. Cannon of Harvard found that by feeding food impregnated with bismuth, the bismuth would throw a shadow on the X-ray plate, and it was possible to take an outline of the stomach and aptestines and also to show their movements. Thus the diagnosis of digestive diseases was extended. The idea that soft parts such as the stomach could be shown on the X-ray led to an extension of its application to diseases of the chest. At first this was called "soft tissue work," but now the differentiation is so fine that practically all diseases of the lung will show changes on the X-ray plate, and the size of the heart and its movements can be seen.

A whole field of discovery was opened up when the use of dyes which throw shadows on the X-ray plate was used. Among the most valuable was that of the dye excreted by the liver and held in the gall-bladder. This has allowed us to make positive identification of gall-stones, which usually throw no shadow on the X-ray plate under ordinary circumstances. Stones in the kidney, of course, were, early in the history of the X-ray, found to be identifiable.

In connection with dyes, one of the most interesting of the new developments is the possibility that a dye can be given which will remain in the blood vessels of the spleen, the kidney and the liver, and show the outlines of these organs. Even the nervous system has yielded secrets to the X-ray. By the method of letting air into the cerebro-spinal canal the location of brain tumors can be outlined of the stomach and ap-

Diagnosis by the X-Ray

Has Broadened With Time

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

IN THE LITTLE city of Wurzburg in South Germany there stands a building which I would recommend to public works administrators, and all other planners who are trying to help out in a hurry, because it is the best example I know of getting the most for your money by taking the long view. It is the first building of Physics which was erected in good many years ago to develop a permanent physics at the university.

A Thought for Today

"And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand; and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!"

GYPSY GIRL

THE STORY OF AN IMPASSIONED ROMANCE
McDONALD FEADER

CHAPTER 35
FOR A LONG time Consuelo sat and thought. It was not until after the music of the finale had died that she left the dressing room and went into the hall, anklets clinking, silk skirt swishing. She paused before Louise's room. Then she opened the door and walked in.

Louise looked up. She smiled condescendingly.
"Oh hello there, gypsy. I see Doug told you what I said. Now I'm perfectly willing to be friends with you and all that, but you've got to—"
She stopped. The gypsy was staring at her so peculiarly. "I want to tell you I'm sorry for what I said that day. You see I didn't have an idea you could speak English." Again she stopped. "There isn't any reason for us not being friends, is there?" She cleared her throat. "Oh come now, you mustn't be mad at me for talking to Douglas. We're old friends." She lighted a cigarette. "Have one?"

Consuelo did not speak.
"Oh, don't you smoke?" Louise sat down at the dressing table. "Clara, pour a couple of drinks for the—for Consuelo and me." She took off the headress that was part of her costume. "Douglas was telling me so many nice things about you—"
She was filling in the pause. "I heard Renaldo say you were getting along swell with your routine, but then Renaldo is such a liar you never can believe him. Say, any time you get stuck on a step I'll show you how to do it." No answer.

"Sit down, will you, you make me nervous standing there like a—"
She didn't finish the sentence. "Clara, hurry up with that drink. You'll have one, won't you?"
"No, I don't drink with people I don't like!"
Louise started as if she had been slapped.

"Listen here, you gypsy, you've no reason to say that to me. I'm being darned nice to you. It isn't often that a star as big as me offers to make friends with just a specialty dancer, you realize that, don't you?"
Louise stared open-mouthed at the gypsy.

"Then what the devil do you want in my dressing room?"
"I came to tell you fortune."
"You're crazy! I don't want my fortune told. I've offered you my friendship and if you don't want it get out of here and do it darn quick, or I'll call the stage hands and have you put out."

"No, you won't. Listen, white woman, I'm tired of this playing at being nice with you. I hate you. You're dancing in the place I want to dance in and there is not room for the two of us."

"Of all the crust!" Louise exploded. Then she laughed nervously. "Don't be silly, dearie. You must think a lot of yourself to imagine you could take Louise's place. You think because you're understanding me that you can step in—well, if you weren't such a green newcomer you'd know you couldn't. I've got a contract with Goldberg that he can't break if he wanted to, so now what do you think you're going to do?"

"Gypsies get what they want—some way!"
"Gypsies may get what they want but they don't get what I want! Now get out of here!"
"When I am ready!"
They stared at each other and Louise was the first to break. She turned to the mirror and pinned back her hair preparatory to taking off her makeup.

"Clara, will you open the door for this unwanted person? I'm quite too fatigued to endure more of this distasteful interview," she drawled in her ritzziest manner.

Clara held the door open but the gypsy made no move to go.
"Miss Louise, don't you all think I better get Mr. Had?"
Perhaps Louise thought of the laugh this would give backstage, for she said, "Oh, don't bother, Clara. She can stay here all night if she wants. I've got a heavy date with my boy friend." She gestured with hands covered with cold cream.

"Better be nice to me, dearie, my boy friend is the big boy behind this show and if I say so—out you'll go, see?"
"You think so?"
"Goldberg isn't so big, you know. He's the one who put you on but my boy friend has the say so over Goldberg, and my boy friend saw to it that I got a contract that nobody in New York could break."

"These contracts, I don't know much about, but it would seem to me that the way you danced was contract enough or not enough. With my dancing I don't need a contract to make them keep me. I came in to tell your fortune, white woman, and I say to you, you'll wish your contract was a thousand times as strong before you're through!"

"You're a dirty little liar!" Then again she climbed the pedestal of Louise. "Don't be utterly ridiculous, my dear. It's only your colossal never-smiling type that has driven more people away from the church than has ever brought into it."

I was in a home to spend an evening several months ago. Along about 11 o'clock the host and hostess thought it about time we had something to eat. Instead of preparing the food and serving it in the home, the three guests were invited to share the family car on a trip to a lunch stand 10 miles away where the stands were purchased at a cost of $2.00. Even with the ever-ready can opener, the lunch could have been served at home for much less than half that amount—and it would have been much more palatable and enjoyable. But in our mad rush we much keep up with the Joneses—or "bust" a home-string trying.

Members of the Trinity Lutheran Brotherhood, along with other similar organizations in the city, seem to have the happy faculty of promoting social gatherings that are interesting, wholesome and thoroughly enjoyable. The entertainment feature of the gathering last Thursday night was an example, one of their number being placed on trial for the larceny of a horse. The mock legal procedure would have shattered the dignity of any court of law, but it was lots of fun for spectators and participants alike. The stern judge, the solemn jury, ferocious prosecutors and defenders, dignified court officials, nervous witnesses and the defendant himself, all contributed to the merriment.

Gatherings such as this add much to community life. It seems to me that the present generation has somehow conceived the idea that in order to have a good time it is necessary to go long distances away from home, to pay out hard-earned money for high balls, cats, questionable entertainment, to join the night life among the bright lights in places where they wouldn't care to be seen by their next door neighbor—all for a so-called thrill and as an apparent step toward modern conventions and ultra-sophistication. Many of us enjoy those things as a matter of routine habit, but I wonder sometimes if we get our money's worth.

We overlook many opportunities for home-made fun within our own little circle—fun that doesn't cost anything and in which we as individuals and as a part of community life can take part and enjoy.

One of the best comedians I ever knew was a small-town college professor a deacon in his church. He successfully resisted all efforts to induce him to capitalize on this particular talent—he was content to remain away from the bright lights and to add his mite toward making his home town a better place in which to live. He was a Christian gentleman, but not the long-faced, woman, I'm tired of this playing at being nice with you. I hate you. You're dancing in the place I want to dance in and there is not room for the two of us."

Consuelo started forward. Louise did not notice, but chattered on in her high voice.

"You see, dearie, when you have a sweetheart that's as influential as mine you don't need to worry much about a contract. Stewart, you know, Stewart Blackmore, is such a dear." She slipped on a small diamond and platinum wrist watch. "Isn't it a dream? He gave it to me only last week."

"You lie, you white dog, you lie!" Consuelo slapped Louise across the face.

Louise screamed. She stumbled back from the infuriated gypsy.

"What's that to you?" she cried. "Plenty to me! He's my man, not yours!"
"Oh! Oh!—Oh!—"
Louise laughed hysterically.

Consuelo went downstairs and started for the alley. Then Doug sighted her. He ran up, caught her arm and walked beside her.

"What's the rush? Fire or something?"
No answer.
"Say, baby, don't be mad at Doug. He's harmless and well meaning and he's got a good heart under his great brawny chest—"

No answer.
He stopped her and turned her face to his.
"What's wrong? Listen, baby, was that you who hollered up there?"
"No."
"Was it Louise?"
"Yes."

"Good Lord, haven't you any sense at all? Why can't you leave her alone? You've got a swell nerve to be jealous of me talking to her when you and Stewart—"

She jerked herself free and started to run.
"Hey, darn you, what's got into you all of a sudden?" He caught up with her. "Gee, baby, I'm sorry for making you mad. For the love of heaven, will you slow down?" He was panting. "Let me get a cab, you can't be running through the streets like this." He was holding her back.

"Listen, my darling—hey, taxi, taxi! Here get in!" He shoved her through the door and slammed it behind him. With a sigh of relief he told the driver to go to the hotel.

"Doug," her voice was toneless. "If you like me a little don't take me to the hotel!"

CHILLICOTHE RETURNS TO TIGER FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

SAME BOOKED NOVEMBER 15 IN THAT CITY

Eight Games On Schedule Announced Today By Gephart; Prospects Uncertain

While prospects for next year's football team are somewhat in the dark, Principal-Faculty Manager E. I. Gephart today announced the complete grid schedule.

For the first time since the local school withdrew from the South Central Ohio League (Chillicothe will be met on the football field, the Tigers traveling to the Ross-co metropolis for the first game of the season on November 15.

Lancaster, usually the first game of the season, will not be played this year since dates could not be arranged. The local 11 always went to Lancaster to play. Under the lights, the game's finances helping care for the year's expenses. Since that game could not be booked Mr. Gephart looked elsewhere for a "money maker" and found it in Chillicothe. T. J. Vernia, who refereed two basketball games here during the winter, coaches the Chillicothe team.

Play on New Field
A new athletic field will be available for use when the Tigers go to Chillicothe. It was built through popular interest contributions being made to make the project possible.

With Lancaster off the schedule Groveport has been placed first on the list of games. The Franklin-co crew will visit this city for the first time Friday, Sept. 20.

Five games will be played with Central Buckeye league foes prior to the contest with London's team here on Nov. 8.

The complete schedule follows:
Sept. 20, Groveport here.
Sept. 27, open permanently unless it can be filled with a small school.

Oct. 4, Grandview here.
Oct. 11, at Delaware.
Oct. 18, at Westerville.
Oct. 25, at Bexley.
Nov. 1, Marysville here.
Nov. 8, London here.
Nov. 15, at Chillicothe.

Chillicothe is certain to have another good team with a wealth of material available. Just what the Tigers will have is entirely in the dark. There are probably six or eight lettermen back for a nucleus with some likely looking underclassmen on the way up.

WARNEKE TO FACE DEAN IN OPENER

CHICAGO, April 15. Manager Charley Grimm will start his new hurler, Lon Warneke, against the world champion St. Louis Cardinals when the baseball season officially opens here tomorrow.

Grimm's lineup will be: Graham, left field; English, second base; Klein, right field; Lindstrom, third base; Chrysler, center field; Cavaretta, first base; R. Smith, catcher; Jurgens, short stop; and Warneke, pitcher.

Drizzy Dean is expected to pitch for the Cards.

Ruth, Dean Both Question Marks

By DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, April 15.—Baseball, the game of the many and the privilege of the few, is facing its most momentous opening day of many years tomorrow, with the fate at quite some few leading characters hanging by a gossamer thread and even the financial stability of the institution being under something of an anxious scrutiny. Six of the eight National league clubs finished in the home last year and the only reason the other two got into the league was that one of them reached the world series and the other almost did.

The American league didn't do any better but it happens to have a roster of owners who can stand a little financial anguish.

The exchequer, of course, is only a part of the general uncertainty that prevails today, an eight big league New York, Washington, St. Louis and Detroit in the American league; Boston, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Chicago in the National league; and for the 1935 inaugural, for lack of a better designation, this might be called the season of the great unknown.

What of Drizzy
J. Delmonico Dean, big brother of the late, though? There has been some loose language to that general effect, supportive in part by the gentleman's behavior this spring. But the time he hasn't been able to get them out. There's the question of Ruth in a Boston national league uniform—er is it a question? So far, it has been mostly an answer.

Ruth will draw a crowd in Boston tomorrow against Hubbell and the Giants, just as he turned them away in the south. But not because of his outstanding ability.

The most outstanding thing about him, in fact, is his team and it is my notion that if Ruth doesn't soon turn up with something else, they'll pay him a great deal. Ruth had one good day over in Newark a week ago when he hit two homers off minor league pitching. Strangely, the only good day Dean has shown was the time he faced Ruth and the Braves at St. Petersburg. The story is that he stiffened his arm, putting right the ball after the last out.

Track Meet Planned
The date for a track meet with Chillicothe is expected to be announced in a short time while it is probable another meet will be held this year with New Holland and Pickaway at Tiger foes.

Recreation Meeting
Although soft ball season seems to be far away with the weather behaving as it is, a meeting of much importance to all Circleville recreation ball enthusiasts is scheduled at 8 o'clock this evening in the editorial room of The Herald office. An effort will be made to perfect the plans and learn how many teams will be entered.

Many Golfers Out
While the course was quite soft as a result of the heavy rains of the past week a number of the "birds" took advantage of the weather Sunday to get in some practice links on the Pickaway Country club links. All of the courses were busy. The 18-hole course was snacked out a 7-6 at 11:15 a.m. Knoxville in their final possession game. They will be guests at a banquet tonight.

CANINE CLUB'S INITIAL TRIAL HUGE SUCCESS

Chillicothe Dog Win Major Prizes; Large Crowd Attends Sunday Event

The initial field trial of the Pickaway-co Sportsman's Bird Dog club, staged Sunday in Wayne-twp. was a marked success in every detail. Large crowds were present all day with scores of cars from even faraway cities being observed.

W. Main-st inhabitants were kept busy all day directing strangers to the scene of the trials.

Lester H. Coate, secretary of the organization, announced today that 46 dogs took part. There were some on hand that could not be shown because of the lateness of the hour. Thirty-four animals took part in the "all age" class while 12 "puppies" performed.

Streets Bill First
The top prize of the day was won by Street's Bill entered by J. S. Street, of Chillicothe. This was in the "all age" class.

The other prize winners in this class were:
Second, Dizzy Duke, entered by H. B. Hunter, of Newark.
Third, Dickie, entered by Charles Carter of Clarksburg.

Fourth, Higby's Renie, entered by H. D. McCandlish, of Bremen.
First place in the puppy class was won by Nimon's John, owned by W. M. Nimon, of New Straitsville.

Second in this class went to Hawks Spectre Hotshot, owned by D. K. Delong, of Chillicothe; third to Hawks Spectre High Wide, also owned by Mr. Delong, and fourth was won by Dan owned by Jim Templin, of Clarksburg.

A prize for the first lady to enter a dog was won by Mrs. L. J. Carter, of Lancaster.

Another prize for the person entering the most dogs was won by E. K. Delong, of Chillicothe.

Dr. Harold Ersig, of Toledo, nationally known dog expert, and Sam Scott, of South Bloomfield, were judges. J. S. Duros, of Columbus, acted as field marshal.

The dogs were all well-handled and sportsmanship was high throughout the day.

Plan Two-Day Trial
B. S. "Timmy" Millar, president of the newly-organized club, announced today that the club's next endeavor will be a two-day trial, the date for which has not yet been determined.

Dressen to Use MITE SOUTHPAW
CINCINNATI, April 15. The Cincinnati Reds were to be sent through a brief workout today in preparation for the opening game of the season against the Pittsburgh Pirates tomorrow when the Reds will start a campaign which they hope will boost them out of the National league cellar this year.

Manager Charley Dressen announced that he would pitch today, a left-hander, in the "game."

The Reds put on their last exhibition game yesterday before approximately 10,000 fans in long-ago came with the home team. The latter team won 2-1, but the Reds outbatted the home lady by 10 hits to 3. However, the Tigers placed their strategy where they were most effective while the Reds left in the stranded on the bases.

Shirley Temple
Struck on the temple by a hand drive, Millard (Dixie) Howell, Detroit Tiger rookie and star of the Rose Bowl football battle between Alabama and Stanford, was reported suffering a skull fracture. Physicians at Lynchburg, Va., where Howell was confined in a hospital, said the force of the blow injured the entire right side of his face and head.

35 War Aces Ready to Serve Germany

Germany could summon into active service, or use as instructors, at least 35 of its World War pilots shot down at least 715 enemy planes in the manner illustrated above. Among them are Ernst Udet, who scored 62 victories; Bruno Loerzer, 41; Edward Ritter von Friedrich Christiansen, 31. Udet recently visited U.S. as a stunt flier. Air Minister Hermann Goering a war ace who shot down 22 planes.

CHILLICOTHE RETURNS TO TIGER FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

SAME BOOKED NOVEMBER 15 IN THAT CITY

Eight Games On Schedule Announced Today By Gephart; Prospects Uncertain

While prospects for next year's football team are somewhat in the dark Principal-Faculty Manager E. I. Gephart today announced the complete grid schedule.

For the first time since the local school withdrew from the South Central Ohio League Chillicothe will be met on the football field, the Tigers traveling to the Ross-co metropolis for the last game of the season on November 15.

Lancaster, usually the first game of the season, will not be played this year since dates could not be arranged. The local 11 always went to Lancaster to play under the lights, the game's finances helping care for the year's expenses. Since that game could not be booked Mr. Gephart looked elsewhere for a "money maker" and found it in Chillicothe. T. J. Verita, who refereed two basketball games here during the winter, coaches the Chillicothe team.

Play on New Field A new athletic field will be available for use when the Tigers go to Chillicothe. It was built through popular interest, contributions being made to make the project possible.

With Lancaster off the schedule Groveport has been placed first on the list of games. The Franklin-co crew will visit this city for the first time Friday, Sept. 20.

Five games will be played with Central Buckeye league foes prior to the contest with London's team here on Nov. 8.

The complete schedule follows: Sept. 20, Groveport here. Sept. 27, open permanently unless it can be filled with a small school.

Oct. 4, Grandview here. Oct. 11, at Delaware. Oct. 18, at Westerville. Oct. 25, at Bexley. Nov. 1, Marysville here. Nov. 3, London here. Nov. 15, at Chillicothe.

Chillicothe is certain to have another good team with a wealth of material available. Just what the Tigers will have is entirely in the dark. There are probably six or eight letter-men look for a nucleus with some likely looking underdogs on the way up.

WARNEKE TO FACE DEAN IN OPENER

CHICAGO, April 15—Manager Charley Grimm will start his ace hurler, Lon Warneke, against the world champion St. Louis Cardinals when the baseball season officially opens here tomorrow.

Grimm's lineup will be: Gyan, left field; English, second base; Klein, right field; Lindstrom, third base; Cuyler, center field; Cavaretta, first base; Hartnett, catcher; Jurgen, short stop, and Warneke, pitcher.

Dizzy Dean is expected to pitch for the Cards.

His 1c Income Tax

MACON, Ga.—A local resident was required to pay 600 per cent more income tax than he owed, and it appears that he will have no legal recourse. Making out his return, the taxpayer found that it totaled exactly one penny. It cost him six cents for a money order for the one cent to be sent to the collector.

Ruth, Dean Both Question Marks

By DAVIS J. WALSH NEW YORK, April 15—Baseball, the game of the many and the privilege of the few, is facing its most momentous opening day of many years tomorrow, with the fate of quite some few leading character hanging by a gossamer thread and even the financial stability of the institution being under something of an anxious scrutiny.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

Announcement Planning Announcement today that Chillicothe is again on the high school football schedule is pleasing to all Circleville fans—Whether the Tigers can stop the Chillicotheans, usually strong, makes no difference, but it is right that schools so strategically located should be friendly rivals in all sports. It would be pleasing to many local fans to see the old South Central Ohio athletic league rejuvenated—Maybe resumption of grid relations between the Circleville and Chillicothe schools will have some effect.

"New Day" Needed A "new day" in athletics in the local school would be necessary to give the Red and Black much of a chance against Chillicothe, Greenfield, Wilmington, Hillsboro and the other schools of the district—Maybe that "new day" is on the way.

Track Meet Planned The date for a track meet with Chillicothe is expected to be announced in a short time while it is probable another meet will be held this year with New Holland and Pickaway as Tiger foes.

Recreation Meeting Although soft ball season seems to be far away with the weather behaving as it is a meeting of much importance to all Circleville recreation ball enthusiasts is scheduled at 8 o'clock this evening in the editorial room of The Herald office—An effort will be made to perfect the league and learn how many teams will be entered.

Many Golfers Out While the course was quite soft as a result of the heavy rains of the past week a number of "early birds" took advantage of nice weather Sunday to get in some practice links on the Pickaway Country club links—All Columbus courses were busy—The Red Birds snatched out a 7-6 victory over Knoxville in their final pre-season game—They will be guests at a banquet tonight.

CANINE CLUB'S INITIAL TRIAL HUGE SUCCESS

Chillicothe Dog Win Major Prizes; Large Crowd Attends Sunday Event

The initial field trial of the Pickaway-co Sportsman's Bird Dog club, staged Sunday in Wayne-twp, was a marked success in every detail. Large crowds were present all day with scores of cars from even faraway cities being observed.

W. Main-st habitants were kept busy all day directing strangers to the scene of the trials.

Lester H. Coate, secretary of the organization, announced today that 46 dogs took part. There were some on hand that could not be shown because of the lateness of the hour. Thirty-four animals took part in the "all age" class while 12 "puppies" performed.

Streets Bill First The top prize of the day was won by Street's Bill entered by J. S. Street, of Chillicothe. This was in the "all age" class.

The other prize winners in this class were: Second, Dizzy Duke, entered by H. B. Hunter, of Newark.

Third, Dickie, entered by Charles Carter of Clarksburg.

Fourth, Higby's Renie, entered by H. D. McDaniel, of Bremen.

First place in the puppy class was won by Nimon's John, owned by W. M. Nimon, of New Straitsville.

Second in this class went to Hawks Spectre Hotshot, owned by D. K. Delong, of Chillicothe; third to Hawks Spectre High Wide, also owned by Mr. Delong, and fourth was won by Dan owned by Jim Templin, of Clarksburg.

A prize for the first lady to enter a dog was won by Mrs. L. J. Carter, of Lancaster.

Another prize for the person entering the most dogs was won by D. K. Delong, of Chillicothe.

Dr. Harold Ersig, of Toledo, nationally known dog expert, and Sam Scott, of South Bloomfield, were judges. J. S. Duros, of Columbus acted as field marshal.

The dogs were all well-handled and sportsmanship was high throughout the day.

Plan Two-Day Trial

B. S. "Timmy" Millar, president of the newly-organized club, announced today that the club's next endeavor will be a two-day trial, the date for which has not yet been determined.

DRESSEN TO USE MITE SOUTHPAW

CINCINNATI, April 15—The Cincinnati Reds were to be sent through a brief workout today in preparation for the opening game of the season against the Pittsburgh Pirates tomorrow when the Reds will start a campaign which they hope will boost them out of the National league cellar this year.

Manager Charley Dressen announced that he would pitch Tony Freitas, a left-hander, in the " opener."

The Reds put on their last exhibition game yesterday before approximately 10,000 fans in a bang-up game with the Detroit Tigers. The latter team won 3 to 2, but the Reds out-hit the Cochran lads by 10 hits to 3. However, the Tigers placed their safety where they were most effective while the Reds left 10 men stranded on the sacks.

Seriously Injured

Millard (Dixie) Howell Struck on the temple by a line drive, Millard (Dixie) Howell, Detroit Tiger rookie and star of the Rose Bowl football battle between Alabama and Stanford, was reported suffering a skull fracture. Physicians at Lynchburg, Va., where Howell was confined in a hospital, said the force of the blow injured the entire right side of his face and head.

Bears on the Water

University of California varsity eight rows on Oakland estuary. Stern to bow, they are Roy Watt, Gene Berkenkamp, Leroy Briggs, Tevis Thompson, John Stave, Carroll Brigham, Elmer Moore, James McKinney, Harley Fremming.

A Strange Tale

Kept apart 24 years by circumstances of adoption, Henry E. Walters and Clara May David, identical twins, are pictured as they were reunited in Cleveland. Henry became so curious when informed that he was a twin that he determined to find his sister. Both lived in Cleveland, but neither ever had met the other. The separation was caused when in error the orphanage had listed the boy baby as having died. Instead, he had, in error again, been adopted by a different family, although the family that had adopted the girl baby had desired the boy twin also.

Patterns

PATTERN 9350

Every line in this dress is cleverly contrived to "lie" about your weight! The unbroken line from shoulder to hip adds to your height the diagonal closing "slims" you down and the panel skirt gives you a trim hip line! Why it makes you "feel" slimmer, just to look at this frock! Notice how cleverly Marian Martin avoids waistline emphasis, but adds four buttons for smart accents. About the house, you'll appreciate the unimpeded freedom of the easy-fitting sleeve and bodice. Run up several in printed cottons for about-the-house and make a dark printed foulard for smart town wear!

Make Delicious Servings

To make your meals appetizing and delicious they need not be expensive. Inexpensive foods may require some added preparation in order to be made into appealing dishes, but the effort is worth while when the extra economy, together with the family's pleasure is considered.

Baked potatoes have been stuffed in many ways, but this recipe has an added tastiness that has been lacking in other recipes of our acquaintance. Try it and prove its goodness.

Stuffed Baked Potatoes

- 6 Idaho potatoes
- 1/2 C. minced onion
- 2 Tbsp. butter
- 2 C. chopped cooked ham
- 1/4 C. finely chopped mustard pickles
- 1 Tbsp. minced parsley
- 1/4 tsp. paprika
- 1/2 C. seasoned white sauce, or hot milk
- 6 slices American cheese

Scrub the potatoes and bake them in a hot oven (450 degrees) for 1 hour, or until tender. Meanwhile, saute the onion in the butter and combine with the chopped ham, pickle, parsley and paprika. Cut a slice from the top of each potato, scoop out centers and mash thoroughly. Blend with the white sauce or milk, add the ham mixture, season to taste and refill skin. Top each with cheese and place in a shallow baking pan. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) until cheese melts, 15 minutes.

Potted Veal With Dumplings

- 2 lb. shoulder of veal (cut for stew)
- 1 onion
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 C. Worcestershire sauce
- 2 C. diced potatoes
- 3/4 C. tomato catsup
- 3 or 4 Tbsp. flour
- 1 C. cold water
- Parsley
- Dumplings

Add the veal and sliced onion to 1 qt. boiling water, and simmer 1 hour. Add the salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce and potatoes, and continue cooking 15 minutes. Add the catsup, and thicken the mixture with the flour and water blended together. In the meantime prepare the dumplings. Use 1/2 C. flour, 3 tsp. baking powder, 1/4 tsp. salt, 2 Tbsp. butter, and 1/2 C. milk. Drop by teaspoonfuls on top of the meat. Cover closely and steam 12 minutes.

Oyster Pie

- 2 dozen oysters
- 3 Tbsp. butter
- 4 Tbsp. flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 C. oyster liquor
- 1/2 C. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 Tbsp. chopped parsley
- 1 C. chopped celery
- 1 recipe pastry

Strain the liquor from the oysters. Then rinse them to remove clinging shells. Simmer the oysters in the liquor 5 minutes, then drain again. Prepare a white sauce with the butter, flour, seasonings, milk and the 1/2 cup oyster liquor. Combine the oysters, white sauce, chopped parsley and celery, and place them in a buttered shallow baking dish. Roll the pastry, place it over the oysters and prick for escape of steam. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees, 15 minutes. Glaze the crust by brushing it with slightly beaten egg diluted with water.

An expedition has traced the ancient boundary of Edom. Bronze-age ruins that date the Israelite exodus after the Thirteenth century have been found and an ancient road noted.

Marian Martin Patterns

PATTERN 9350

Every line in this dress is cleverly contrived to "lie" about your weight! The unbroken line from shoulder to hip adds to your height the diagonal closing "slims" you down and the panel skirt gives you a trim hip line! Why it makes you "feel" slimmer, just to look at this frock! Notice how cleverly Marian Martin avoids waistline emphasis, but adds four buttons for smart accents. About the house, you'll appreciate the unhampered freedom of the easy-fitting sleeve and bodice. Run up several in printed cottons for about-the-house and make a dark printed foulard for smart town wear!

Pattern 9350 may be ordered only in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 50. Size 36 requires 3 7/8 yards 36 inch fabric.

IT'S JUST OUT! OUR SPRING PATTERN BOOK is a veritable Fashion Parade of smart styles to help you plan and make your spring wardrobe. Forty pages full of style news of interest to every woman... stunning designs for the house and for town wear! among the special articles are descriptions of the spring fabrics and how to dress the small child. SEND FOR YOUR COPY NOW! PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS BUT IT COSTS ONLY TEN CENTS WHEN ORDERED WITH A PATTERN. PATTERN AND BOOK TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

These Inexpensive Recipes Make Delicious Servings

To make your meals appetizing and delicious, they need not be expensive. Inexpensive foods may require some added preparation in order to be made into appealing dishes, but the effort is worth while when the extra economy, together with the family's pleasure is considered.

Baked potatoes have been stuffed in many ways, but this recipe has an added tastiness that has been lacking in other recipes of our acquaintance. Try it and prove its goodness.

Stuffed Baked Potatoes

- 6 Idaho potatoes
- 1/2 C. minced onion
- 1 Tbsp. butter
- 2 C. chopped cooked ham
- 1/4 C. finely chopped mustard pickles
- 1 Tbsp. minced parsley
- 1/4 tsp. paprika
- 1 C. seasoned white sauce, or hot milk
- 6 slices American cheese

Scrub the potatoes and bake them in a hot oven (450 degrees) for 1 hour, or until tender. Meanwhile, saute the onion in the butter and combine it with the chopped ham, pickle, parsley and paprika. Cut a slice from the top of each potato, scoop out centers and mash thoroughly. Blend with the white sauce or milk, add the ham mixture, season to taste and refill skin. Top each with cheese and place in a shallow baking pan. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) until cheese melts, 15 minutes.

Potted Veal With Dumplings

- 2 lbs. shoulder of veal (cut for stew)
- 1 onion
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 2 C. diced potatoes
- 1 C. tomato catsup
- 3 or 4 Tbsp. flour
- 1 C. cold water
- Parsley

Put the veal and sliced onion to 1 qt. boiling water, and simmer 1 hour. Add the salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce and potatoes, and continue cooking 15 minutes. Add the catsup, and thicken the mixture with the flour and water blended together. In the meantime prepare the dumplings. Use 1/2 C. flour, 3 Tbsp. baking powder, 1/4 tsp. salt, 2 Tbsp. butter, and 3/4 C. milk. Drop by teaspoonfuls on top of the meat. Cover closely and steam 12 minutes.

Oyster Pie

- 2 dozen oysters
- 3 Tbsp. butter
- 4 Tbsp. flour
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 C. milk
- 1/4 C. oyster liquor
- 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 Tbsp. chopped parsley
- 1 C. chopped celery
- 1/2 recipe pastry

Strain the liquor from the oysters. Then rinse them to remove clinging shells. Simmer the oysters in the liquor 5 minutes, then drain again. Prepare a white sauce with the butter, flour, seasonings, milk and the 1/4 cup oyster liquor. Combine the oysters, white sauce, chopped parsley and celery, and place them in a buttered shallow baking dish. Roll the pastry, place it over the oysters and prick for escape of steam. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees, 15 minutes. Glaze the crust by brushing it with slightly beaten egg diluted with water.

An expedition has traced the ancient boundary of Edom. Bronze-age ruins that date the Israelite exodus after the Thirteenth century have been found and an ancient road noted.

AIRMAN AGAIN LOSES EFFORT TO SET MARK

LAST LIBERTY BONDS CALLED BY UNCLE SAM

Wiley Post Forced Down At Purdue Airport; Disgusted
By His Failure

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 15.—Wiley Post is bitterly disappointed at his failure to span the continent in less than eight hours.

Asked if he would make fourth stratosphere flight in an attempt to set a new west-east record, the one-eyed airman answered shortly: "I don't want to talk about it."

Post's third attempt to streak from the Pacific to the Atlantic was halted at 3:40 p. m. here yesterday by supercharger trouble.

He had left the airport at Burbank, Cal., eight hours and 13 minutes earlier 7:27 a. m. (CST).

Slips to Landing
Skidding the Winnie Mae, he dropped his landing gear after the takeoff—a dust-specing step at the Purdue university airport here. The famous flier's first words were:

"Take off my hat."
The "hat" was a martian appearing aluminum helmet connected to oxygen tanks to sustain him in the 33,000 foot altitudes in which he streaked from Burbank to LaFayette.

"I didn't see the ground from Denver to LaFayette," he said.

Post said he was somewhere between Chicago and Cincinnati when the supercharger trouble developed.

He said he planned to stay here several days, awaiting arrival and installation of the landing gear. He refused to reveal his further plans.

The erstwhile Oklahoma farm boy was reticent, but did say that he had encountered adverse flying conditions and had suffered from the intense cold in the rarefied atmosphere.

Post said, "The oxygen made me goofy."

"It isn't a good idea to breathe oxygen with a cold."

Hoped for Mark

The present west-east record of 10 hours and two minutes is held by Col. Roscoe Turner. By flying in the upper strata which is free of atmospheric disturbances, Post hoped to establish a new record of less than eight hours, and prove the feasibility of superspeed air-mail and express flights.

Redemption of Final Bonds Set
For October 15; Morgenthau On Radio

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Seventeen years after the Armistice all World War financing today was relegated to the "page of history."

Secretary Morgenthau, in a radio speech, issued a call for the remaining outstanding 4½ per cent Fourth Liberty bonds for redemption October 15.

According to the secretary the financial "log-jam" has been broken and money released through the great reduction in interest rates will be permitted to flow into the channels of commerce and industry.

"There is no longer any reason why capital should not flow normally into the arteries of business," Morgenthau said.

Will Retire All

About $1,250,000,000 of the 4½ Fourth Liberties will be retired on or before next October. It was regarded as probable that holders of the fourth liberty bonds would be offered the privilege of exchanging them for other securities of the government within the next few months.

About $1,930,000,000 in the First Liberty loan has been called for June 15. It was expected that a refunding issue would be offered for the redemption of these securities shortly after April 21. First Liberties not refunded into the new issue will be paid off in cash June 15.

Through the call of Morgenthau all of the bonds issued to finance the World War were wiped out. In all the war time issues amounted to about twenty five billion dollars. During this and previous administrations these bonds bearing upwards of 4½ per cent interest have been refinanced into securities of much lower rates, resulting in the saving to the government estimated at about a hundred million dollar a year, including contemplated refunding of the remainder of the Fourth Liberties.

Morgenthau pointed out that while the bonds called today bear 4½ per cent interest the average rate of interest on outstanding government securities is only 2½ per cent.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout troop No. 3 held its meeting Friday, at Memorial hall. We opened the meeting with our favorite songs.

We also sang our fun test songs to entertain the prospective Brownies. We then went to public corners where a nature hike was planned for next week. We were each given a name of a bird to look up and study for the next meeting. We sang to and were counted.

Sarah J. Dugan, Reporter

Cincinnati Girl Scout troop No. 1 held its regular meeting Friday, April 12, in the basement of the Presbyterian Church. In the first meeting the motion was made and carried to drop from the calendar the names of the girls who have twice sweated in the program. It was also decided to pay the registration of our troop girls in the summer out of the troop treasury. A hike was planned for next Friday, to be from 9:00 a. m. to 10 p. m. Afternoon and evening were closed with the radio band.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 15 — Wiley Post is bitterly disappointed at his failure to span the continent in less than eight hours.

Asked if he would make fourth stratosphere flight in an attempt to set a new west-east record, the one-eyed airman answered shortly: "I don't want to talk about it."

Post's third attempt to streak from the Pacific to the Atlantic was halted at 3:40 p. m. here yesterday by supercharger trouble.

He had left the airport at Burbank, Cal., eight hours and 13 minutes earlier 7:27 a. m. (CST).

Skids to Landing

Skidding the Winnie Mae — he dropped his landing gear after the takeoff — to a dust-spewing stop at the Purdue university airport here. The famous flier's first words were:

"Take off my hat."

The "hat" was a martian appearing aluminum helmet connected to oxygen tanks to sustain him in the 33,000 foot altitudes in which he streaked from Burbank to LaFayette.

"I didn't see the ground from Denver to LaFayette," he said.

Post said he was somewhere between Chicago and Cincinnati when the supercharger trouble developed.

He said he planned to stay here several days, awaiting arrival and installation of the landing gear. He refused to reveal his further plans.

The erstwhile Oklahoma farm boy was reticent, but did say that he had encountered adverse flying conditions and had suffered from the intense cold in the rarefied atmosphere.

Post said, "The oxygen made me goofy."

"It isn't a good idea to breathe oxygen with a cold."

Hoped for Mark

The present west-east record of 10 hours and two minutes is held by Col. Roscoe Turner. By flying in the upper strata which is free of atmospheric disturbances, Post hoped to establish a new record of less than eight hours, and prove the feasibility of superspeed air-mail and express flights.

WASHINGTON, April 15 — Seventeen years after the Armistice all World War financing today was relegated to the "pages of history."

Secretary Morgenthau, in a radio speech, issued a call for the remaining outstanding 4 1/2 per cent Fourth Liberty bonds for redemption October 15.

According to the secretary the financial "log-jam" has been broken and money released through the great reduction in interest rates will be permitted to flow into the channels of commerce and industry.

"There is no longer any reason why capital should not flow normally into the arteries of business," Morgenthau said.

Will Refire All

About $1,250,000,000 of the 4 1/2 Fourth Liberties will be retired on or before next October. It was regarded as probable that holders of the fourth liberty bonds would be offered the privilege of exchanging them for other securities of the government within the next few months.

About $1,930,000,000 in the First Liberty loan has been called for June 15. It was expected that a refunding issue would be offered for the redemption of these securities shortly after April 21. First liberties not refunded into the new issue will be paid off in cash June 15.

Through the call of Morgenthau all of the bonds issued to finance the World War were wiped out. In all the war time issues amounted to about twenty five billion dollars. During this and previous administrations these bonds bearing upwards of 4 1/2 per cent interest have been refinanced into securities of much lower rates, resulting in the saving to the government estimated at about a hundred million dollar a year, including contemplated refunding of the remainder of the Fourth Liberties.

Morgenthau pointed out that while the bonds called today bear 4 1/2 per cent interest the average rate of interest on outstanding government securities is only 2 3/8 per cent.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout troop No. 3 held its meeting, Friday, at Memorial hall. We opened the meeting with our favorite song.

We also sang our funniest songs to entertain the prospective Brownies. We then went to patrol corners where a nature hike was planned for next week. We were each given a name of a bird to look up and study for the next meeting. We sang songs and were dismissed.

Circleville Girl Scout troop No. 4 held its regular meeting Friday, April 12, in the basement of the Presbyterian Church. In the business meeting the motion was made and carried to drop from the enrollment the names of the girls who miss twelve meetings in succession. It was also decided to pay the registration of our troop committee members out of the troop's treasury. A hike was planned for next Friday, to be from 9:00 a. m. to 10 p. m. After games and songs we closed with the radio band-leap.

Girl Scout troop No. 5 met in the high school gymnasium, Saturday afternoon.

The entire troop has passed its tenderfoot test and the investiture ceremony will be held within the next two weeks.

The Hemlock patrol held its candy sale at Saturday's meeting. There will be no sale at the meeting next week.

Mrs. Karl Herrmann taught us some new songs.
